Eight of the leading citizens of the Eight of the leading citizens of the Keswick and Cismont neighborhoods went in search of the prophet about 11 o'clock, and found him at 4 o'clock this morning at the hour of one of his disciples named Mabanes, located near Thelina, Louisa county, just across from Cobham. The search was a long and tiresome one, from house to house, until seven cabins had been visited unsuccessfully. At each cabin a new direction was given the searchers, until finally the company took with it a guide from every place visited.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Norfolk, Va., November 18.—An examination of the monitor Puritan today by officers from the navy yard shows that she has sunk at least seven feet deeper into the mud off Sewell's Point than on the day of the explosion. With the exception of higher points in her superstructure forward, she is now completely under water. The officers now admit that but for the fact that the mud bottom was so near at hand the ship would have gone down entirely in a few hours after the explosion test. Every day that the government neglects the work of raising the craft the costiler the work will be.
